

Week 2 Homework Assignment

Stefani Reinhardt

1. The Last Lecture

I think what affected me the most was Randy Pausch's positive attitude in the face of death. Knowing he only had months to live and yet he seemed to be soaking up more life in his final days than the average person who is lucky enough to continue a healthy existence. It gave me perspective and encouraged me to seek "the good" rather than focus on the negative in my own life. I identified with the following quotes from the lecture:

- "We cannot change the cards we are dealt, we can only change the way we play the hand."
- "Have something to bring to the table, and that way you will be more welcomed."
- "You have to get the fundamentals down first, otherwise the fancy stuff isn't going to work."
- "Experience is what you get when you didn't get what you wanted."
- "Brick walls are there for a reason: they let us prove how badly we want things."
- "Don't complain. Just work harder."
- "Be prepared. Luck is truly when preparation meets opportunity."

2. My Mindset

I scored a 54 on my Mindset test suggesting I have a strong growth mindset. I wouldn't go as far as to say it changed my perspective on Mindset because I was already pretty aware of my mindset. It wasn't always that way, but rather progressed over years of working in the real world with different personalities and perspectives on life. I also credit certain traumas and our current political environment for pushing my mindset to a more mature and accepting one than that of my younger self.

Your Mindset Score is 54 What the Scores Mean:

45-60 YOUR RESULTS SUGGEST A STRONG GROWTH MINDSET.

3. My Learning Style

My Learning Style was what I expected. I've always been a visual learner even when I was kid. Lecturing formats have never been my style and I have struggled with that teaching method in the past. I will likely re-read and re-watch lessons more than once to ensure the information is absorbed. So far, you are doing everything I require to learn the new materials. The hands-on lessons on Code.org have been very helpful.
